

THE UNIVERSITY of ADELAIDE

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Since 1913 the University of Adelaide's School of Education has been committed to advancing research-led practice for pre- and post-service teachers and leaders in education.

Our research has a positive impact on student outcomes and underpins our Bachelor of Teaching double degrees, Master of Teaching, and Master of Education. We cultivate teachers who are part of a community of professionals able to evaluate and research their professional practice.

Vision

To develop evidence-based pedagogies which stimulate a positive vision of educational futures.

Mission

To create teaching and learning environments that promote positive educational environments, creative educational solutions, and wellbeing for teachers and learners, embracing Indigenous and minority students and their communities.
